

EOI B1

Speaking - Monologue

- How long is it? 2.5/3 minutes
- Can I prepare it? Yes, and you can create a script
- What's the structure?
  - Introduction
  - Main body
  - Conclusion

Introduction – Introduce yourself & the topic

Good afternoon. My name is María José and I work as an English teacher. I would like to pass this exam because I am planning on sitting a public examination to work in the public education system. The topic that I have been given today is...

Introduction – Introduce briefly the topics

I've divided my monologue into ... parts. I'm going to start speaking about... Secondly, I'll describe... I will then mention ... And finally, I'm going to conclude with my personal opinion on this topic/matter.

Main body

- Use connectors and linking words (5/6)

- First of all, I'd like to say...
- In addition to that,...
- Moreover,...
- Furthermore,...
- As everyone knows...
- It is said that...
- It is generally accepted that...
- It is a fact that...
- Let's now move on to...
- This leads directly to my next point.
- This brings us to the next point.
- Nevertheless
- On the other hand
- Apart from that
- On top of that
- For example / Such as
- With this in mind
- As a result of
- Consequently

Main body

- Use a wide variety of grammar structures (4/5)
- Use different vocabulary points (4/5)

B1

Comparatives and superlatives

Conditionals, 2nd and 3rd

Connecting words expressing cause and effect, contrast etc.

All tenses including perfect tenses

Modals

Phrasal verbs

Reported speech (range of tenses)

Simple passive

Will and going to, for prediction

Conclusion

- Summarize
- Personal opinion or experience
- Rhetorical question

Tips

- Have some ideas ready, don't improvise
- Structure your speech
- Big words and bullet points in your script
- Summarize what you're going to talk about
- Keep eye contact
- Prepare a good introduction
- Time control
- Personal experience
- Practice a lot
- Research topics and vocabulary

Prepare a good introduction and the script of your monologue

